

You're Invited to a Professional Development Roundtable hosted by AGC Georgia's Young Leadership Program

From the Heart to the Head – Pull Planning Well-Led: The three biggest mistakes made in pull planning and how to avoid them forever!

Presented by: Brent Darnell

Wednesday, September 16, 2015 at 7:30 am - 9:30 am

Michael's on Mulberry - 588 Mulberry Street, Macon 31201

Learn more about the basics of emotional intelligence, what it is, how it is measured, how it can be improved, and how it can affect lean practice and behavior. Do you know the three biggest mistakes that are made during the pull planning process? We'll discuss ways to avoid them. You will leave with a clear vision of a method called "Paramount Partnering" that integrates the technical side of lean and the planning process with the human side of developing trust, cooperation, and communication to make the lean practice easier, more accurate, and more effective.

About the Presenter: Brent Darnell is a mechanical engineer and a graduate of Georgia Tech. After working in the construction industry for twenty years, he started his leadership development company. He is an authority on emotional intelligence and a pioneer in its use in the construction industry. He is an adjunct professor at Auburn and Penn State, teaching emotional intelligence to their technical students.

We're expecting a full-house for this unique and informative presentation. Breakfast provided for those registering by 9/9/15.
