Georgia Branch, AGC is joining with the Construction Education Foundation of Georgia (CEFGA) and a dozen other construction-related trade associations to host a VIP Breakfast with the SkillsUSA State Champions on March 12. We are one of only two general partner associations for CEFGA and believe in throwing our full support behind this event by making it the featured program for our next Members First meeting in Metro Atlanta. The morning's breakfast is followed by networking and an opportunity to visit the impressive 150,000 sq. ft. exhibit hall featuring this year's CareerExpo and SkillsUSA State Championships.

WHY ATTEND: Baby Boomers make up 50-percent of the construction industry. The 2010 CareerExpo and SkillsUSA State Championships are the largest and most aggressive effort in the entire country to reach out to young people and make sure they know about the great career opportunities in construction. See what your competitors are doing; see what Georgia Branch, AGC is doing, see what the entire industry is doing to reach out to the next generation of skilled labor. Plus, network with more than 500 other industry professionals at one of the state's largest gatherings.

This annual event is sponsored by private employers, trade associations and government agencies. It attracts thousands of students, teachers, school administrators, parents, industry spectators and volunteers. The purpose of the CareerExpo is to promote careers in construction, transportation and energy in a fun, hands-on and interactive way. The SkillsUSA State Championships are a showcase of the top skilled high school and technical college talent in Georgia.

This event is Sponsored by CEFGA – the Construction Education Foundation of Georgia; TEFGA – the Transportation Education Foundation of Georgia; and TCSCG – the Technical College System of Georgia, and more than 200 companies.

Cost for Event is $25 per representative of an AGC member; $40 per representative of a non-AGC member.
