

Twelfth Annual Construction Safety and Excellence Awards

The Associated General Contractors of America (AGC) is happy to announce the 12th annual Construction Safety Excellence Awards (CSEA) program. The purpose of the CSEA is to recognize those construction companies who excel at safety performance. CSEA will closely examine each candidate's commitment to safety and occupational health management and risk control. Unlike the National AGC Safety Awards (NASA) program that limits the criteria to frequency rates, the CSEA selection process is considerably more comprehensive. Judges will look for evidence of company management commitment, active employee participation, safety training, work site hazard identification and control, and safety program innovation.

Participants will be required to complete the application forms and submit them to their local AGC Chapter. The AGC Chapters will select finalists in each category (if applicable) and submit those recommendations to AGC of America. Members of the AGC Safety & Health Committee will review the Chapter's submittals at the winter meeting. Then the finalists in each category will compete at the AGC National Convention for either a 1st, 2nd or 3rd place award. Finalists will have an opportunity to give an oral presentation in front of five judges. The first, second and third place awards will be determined after oral presentations.

All AGC Chapters are encouraged to submit nominations for each division and occupational category. For more information, go to:

The deadline for submitting the application to national AGC is by close of business on December 6, 2010. Detailed announcement and application are attached. Go to: http://www.agc.org/cs/construction_safety_and_excellence_awards to access the application.
