

Exploring Specialized Construction Coverage Lines: Builder's Risk, Professional & Environmental

Lunch and Learn

Most contractors of nearly every tier have had some exposure with many of the specialized lines of construction coverage, whether they are the First Named Insured on these policies or are instead covered by the policy due to their involvement in a project. These often little understood lines of coverage include Builder's Risk, and the various Professional and Environmental coverage lines.

Understanding these coverages is critical to all parties on a jobsite from Owners and General Contractors to Subcontractors, and this session will provide a broad introduction by exploring the following topics:

- What is Builder's Risk Insurance?
- What/Who does Builder's Risk cover?
- Environmental Insurance
- CPL vs. PLL Insurance: Knowing the Coverage Differences
- Professional Coverages
- Tips for Surviving a Hard Market

Content is geared toward both general and specialty contractors and will be of particular interest to risk managers, CFOs, purchasing and estimating personnel, executive teams, and general counsels.
