This 2nd edition of the PMDP is designed to specifically meet the needs of today's construction industry. The curriculum combines activities and shared experiences to provide the necessary skills and knowledge to increase the participant's ability to work successfully with others to ensure project success. This recently updated 40-hour training was developed by AGC member company project managers for aspiring and new construction project managers.

PMDP curriculum takes participants through the management of the entire lifecycle of a construction project, and contains the following five units:

- Unit 1: Introduction to Project Management
- Unit 2: Initiating and Planning, Part 1
- Unit 3: Initiating and Planning, Part 2
- Unit 4: Executing
- Unit 5: Monitoring and Controlling, and Project Closeout

This five part education program is a nationally recognized training standard. Individuals completing all five units will receive an AGC Project Manager Development Program Certificate of Completion.

This class is taught by Ben Ashburn who has a BS in Construction Management and previous experience in commercial construction. After time as a faculty member for several university-level CM programs, he now serves as a Construction Education Training Specialist at Procore's Austin office.
