

Conversation on Mental Health Awareness in the Construction Industry

AGC Georgia's Safety Committee and the OSHA Atlanta West Area office are partnering to promote a safety campaign called Empowering Healthy Connections at Work. It is focusing on improving awareness and education on mental health issues in the construction industry. The statistics are alarming and we hope you'll register to join with other industry professionals to begin learning more about the signs to watch for in your co-workers who could be experiencing troubled times.

"A recent study published by the Center for Disease Control and Prevention found that, in their sample, 20% of all men who died by suicide in the US were in the construction/extraction industry. 47,173 people died by suicide in 2017, and 27,404 of them were men ages 20-34. If 20% of these men were in construction/extraction, that means we can estimate that over 5,000 men working in this industry died by suicide – about nine times more than all of the fatal four deaths combined."
