Building Information Modeling (BIM) is changing the way projects are constructed. Whether you are a prime contractor using BIM across an entire project or a subcontractor impacted by a specific BIM implementation, this emerging practice requires new mindsets and technological know-how in order to achieve significant improvements in efficiency and cost control.

In concert with AGC of America, AGC Georgia is pleased to offer the nationally-recognized BIM Education Program curriculum to our members. The upcoming BIM 4 course is the fourth in a four-part series offered over the next several months, and is designed to prepare construction professionals at all experience levels to successfully implement BIM on a construction project.

After completion of all BIM courses and achieving a passing score on the credentialing exam, a candidate earns their CM-BIM credentials.

BIM Unit 4 Course Topics

A full-day course that describes how to establish and execute the BIM process, facilitate its adoption, and achieve integration on a single project and on multiple projects simultaneously. Participants review several real-world case studies to analyze the costs, benefits and impacts of each decision made while experiencing how BIM breaks down the isolation found in organizational silos. While it may appear at times that BIM is a technology-led movement, the reality – and AGC's BIM Education Program – speaks to a results-driven shift with real change happening within the construction industry.

Candidates who successfully complete the four AGC BIM Education Program courses and provide AGC with a record of completion are eligible to apply for the AGC Certificate of Management-Building Information Modeling (CM-BIM) Exam. This assessment-based certificate credential denotes knowledge and understanding of concepts related to BIM adoption, practice and process transformation outlined in the AGC BIM Program. Exams are hosted by AGC Georgia and held in the Chapter's Training Center.
