

Competent Person Training: Fall Protection

About the Course

Falls are the leading cause of worker fatalities in construction, and the top four OSHA citations are fall-related. On average, each year, between 150 and 200 workers are killed and more than 100,000 are injured as a result of falls at construction sites.

Employers have a duty to provide fall protection when employees are at risk of falling six feet or more and at least one Fall Protection Competent Person per trade should be identified on a project if their workers are exposed to fall hazards.

The course covers the following topics:

- OSHA's Subpart M
- Definitions
- Safety nets
- Positioning devices
- Warning line systems
- Safety monitoring systems
- Scope and application
- Guardrail systems
- Personal fall arrest systems
- Controlled access zones
- Training requirements
- Fall protection plans
