- Jeff Stiner, President/Chief Executive Officer, Kajima Building & Design Group, Inc.

This Young Leadership Program (YLP) Roundtable Discussion focuses on what it takes to be a leader in today's construction industry. Experienced industry professionals will share hard learned lessons, the navigation of difficult situations, and a variety of ways to connect with your team.

Even though each executive arrived in their current role in different ways, they all understand the importance of being an inspirational leader and collaborator. All young professionals will benefit from hearing how these leaders managed their early days "in the trenches" and what it takes to successfully lead their companies.

We're expecting a full-house for this unique and informative presentation. Breakfast provided for those registering by May 16, 2019.
